

Consultant (m/f) in the area of Project Controlling

Job description

We are looking for highly motivated people to join our Antores-Team as an employee in PMO. As a growing consulting company we support our customers in our core competencies project management & project management office, interim management & - tasks as well as management coaching. The main activities thereby are in the various facets of project work, process optimization as well as execution of extra ordinary and exceptional line activities.

Your tasks:

As a consultant (m/f) in the area of Project Controlling, you accompany and support our customers in financially oriented performance controlling. You take on challenging tasks with responsibility and great creative freedom. In this central controlling position you work closely with stakeholders of our customers in the corporate headquarter and with business units of the customer. In analyzing business developments and the modeling of calculations for the derivation of targets and budgets, you develop your professional and personal skills continuously. You perform value-based analyzes and assessments of business units. Your work and your guidance are the basis for further business decisions. As part of a performance-oriented and highly motivated consulting team, you will create group-wide controlling instruments, standards and processes for our customers. You work for our customers for different parts of the group and support the creation of publicly traded communications (AGM, investor / press conferences, annual and interim reports).

Our expectations:

- A Bachelor degree in economics, engineering, information technology or related disciplines.
- You are an expert in Controlling / Corporate Management and due diligence.
- You ideally have relevant professional experience in industrial or consulting companies.
- You convince even in complex issues with your excellent analytical and conceptual skills.
- Your communication and presentation skills facilitate the exchange of information with various addressees of our customers.
- Very good German and English skills and a willingness to travel complete your profile.

What we offer:

- You work in a creative and young, flexible, communicative team.
- You will quickly gain responsibility in our customer projects and special tasks.
- The job will give you the space and opportunities to further develop your own personal and professional skills.
- As an employee you will have the opportunity to actively contribute and co-create to the progress of Antores GmbH.
- You will receive a fair salary linked with an interesting bonus model.

- As Antores GmbH we place importance to latest technical trends. You will benefit from the state of the art IT equipment.

Should you be interested in the position described above, we are looking forward to your application including your availability status and payment expectations.

Please contact us by using the contact form or send us a mail to our postal address.